UNION ELECTRIC'S OWN VALUATIONS $7,200,000 APART

President Mortimer Testifies
in Morgan Jones Distribution Suit Company Was Worth Only $2,800,000 in 1903, When It Was Capitalized at $10,000,000.

OPPONENTS SAY THIS FIGURE IS WRONG

Missouri Edison Minority
Will Receive 43 Per Cent of 1903 Value and Master
Reynolds Is Determining This.

The amount of money the Union Electric Light and Power Co. will have to pay to Morgan Jones and other litigants for their holdings in the Missouri Edison Co., consolidated more than 10 years ago with Union Electric, will be determined by Special Master in Chancery Matt G. Reynolds in a report to be filed in the United States Court within two weeks.

The report of Master Reynolds, when approved by the Court, will terminate the celebrated case, which has been in the courts for 10 years. The attorneys for Morgan Jones and others, saying they are entitled to recover about $5, 000,000 for their clients, are asking the Court to allow them fees of $150,000.

The case has been argued for more than a week and was finally submitted to Master Reynolds last Saturday. Under the decision of the courts, Jones and the intervening litigants are entitled to collect 43 per cent of the value of Union Electric as constituted in 1903, at the time of its organization. Testimony was heard by Master Reynolds as to the value of the property at that time.

Put $2,800,000 Value on It.
James D. Mortimer, of Milwaukee, president of the Union Electric Co., testified that the combined properties were worth, 10 years ago, only $2,800,000. Attorneys for Jones are attempting to show that this valuation is much too low.
Union Electric, at the time the Missouri Edison was taken over, was capitalized for $10,000,000.

In his arguments before Master
Reynolds, and in his briefs, Ford W.
Thompson and David T. Bomer, attorneys for Jones, declared that Union Electric, for rate-making purposes in 1903, valued its property at $4,000,000.
In its annual report, its statements as to the different valuations placed upon the property by the company's officials, together with their other principal allegations, are:

1. That the attitude of the North American Co., which owns the Union Electric, has at all times been and is now to fix such value on the Union Electric property as best suits its purpose at the time. This, they contend, is evidenced by its having raised its value for capitalization purposes in 1903 at $10,000,000; its value for the purpose of a division, with its partners in 1904 at $5,500,000; its value for rate-making purposes in 1905 at $4,000,000; its value in 1906 at $4,300,000; its value in 1907 at $4,

300 Factory Girls Sending Trouseau

Gift to Miss Wilson.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—As part of her trouseau, Miss Jessie Wilson, the President's daughter, will have a linen undershirt presented to her by 300 working girls in this city. Three of them, Miss Margaret Ruckers, Miss Rebecca Kronfeldt and Mrs. C. G. Hill, will start for Washington at 12:30 this afternoon on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and will deliver the skirt to Miss Wilson at the White House at 6:30 this evening.

They wanted to show appreciation of Miss Wilson's interest in their work. Two weeks ago they decided to present a skirt to her. They wrote to Miss Wilson, who replied she would be delighted to receive the gift and its donors at the White House.

The factory workers held an election to choose the trio.

Each of the 300 girls had a hand in the making of the skirt, some taking only one stitch in it. It is of white linen, embroidered with flowers and the initials "J. W. S."

He said he needed the money to get married. In Temm's room detectives recovered all the missing jewelry except a two-carat ring. An hour later they found it on the left hand of the girl Temm was to marry. She surrendered the ring and broke the engagement, refusing to visit Temm at the police station.

MOTHER TELLS

How Her Little Girl Was Restored to Health.

Mrs. Chas. Schrieffer of 129 Himrod St., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "My little girl was frail, sickly and all run down after having had the grippe, and after the first bottle noticed an improvement. She has taken four bottles and has picked up rapidly, having gained six pounds in three weeks."

The reason Vinol builds up weak, ailing children so quickly is because it contains in a delicious combination the two most world-famous tonics—L. C., the strength creating, body-building elements of cod liver oil, with all the useless grease eliminated, and tonic iron for the blood added. If you have a weak, puny, ailing child, try Vinol on our offer to return your money if it fails to benefit your little one.

BILE IS NATURE'S DISINFECTANT

Science now teaches that disease is due to an implanted germ of some kind. Not only infectious diseases, but all other diseases—colds, throat troubles, intestinal troubles—all these things are due to implanted germs. These germs once in the body, multiply by millions. Nature provides for their extermination, but sometimes is unequal to the task. When nature begins to lose in this fight of extermination, you soon feel the excess toxins or poisons—your tongue is coated—your breath is foul, you grow worse, you are dizzy and you grow worse. This multiplication of germs is checked, stopped, or inhibited, as the doctors say. The flow of bile must be accelerated before you get relief. Bile is the disinfectant that stops the multiplication of germs that inhibit further germ growth. Release this bile and relieve the trouble.

How to release the bile. The old-time Doctor who had no regard for the patient's comfort, would give a good big dose or two of Podophyllin (May Apple Root) as it is sometimes called, (Mandrake). It would gripe, it would make them sick as a horse, but it brought the bile from the Liver every time. Nowadays such strenuous remedies are tabooed. But nothing has ever replaced this old-time tried remedy. Science has been working for years to take the gripe and nausea out of Podophyllin and now in Podolax you have the old Bile-starting power of Podophyllin without the gripe and nausea. We suggest that you go to your friend—the druggist—and discuss this Podophyllin question. Get it straight from someone you know. We are confident of results. B. E. Sutherland Co., Paducah, Ky.

GARDNER FILES $5000 SUIT FOR BROKEN NOSE

Wealthy Realty Dealer Accused of Beating Employee in Dispute Over Wages. Frank J. Miner, wealthy real estate dealer living on the Price and Olive streets, west of Clayton, was sued Monday for $5000 damages by his gardener and caretaker, Samuel W. Mann. The suit was filed in Clayton. Mann alleged that he was assaulted by Miner Aug. 30, last, that his nose was broken by a blow from Miner's fist, his eyes blackened and his face bruised and cut. Mann recently caused Miner's arrest on a warrant on the same charge. He said that Miner wanted to hold him responsible for damages to a neighbor's property from a fire which Miner instructed him to set to the weeds in his field. The fire became uncontrollable, and spread to a neighbor's farm. In the dispute over the amount of wages due Mann, the fight followed, according to the petition.

PREPARES BILL TO BAR SEERS' ADVERTISING

Assistant City Attorney Sadler Would Make It Misdemeanor to Publish It. Norman Sadler, Assistant City Attorney, announced Monday that he was preparing an ordinance, to be introduced into the City Council, which would make it a misdemeanor for any newspaper or other medium of publicity to publish or circulate advertisements of fortune tellers or clairvoyants. Some St. Louis papers, he said, still accept this class of advertising, though the operations of the clairvoyants have been stopped by a city ordinance. Several of the seers have gone to the suburbs and are drawing a part of their former trade from the city.

November Sale

An event which thousands of women awaited so eagerly began this morning. It is at this moment, indeed, a tremendous success! We have never seen in any of this sale's seven predecessors such a genuinely enthusiastic crowd, for in no sale of the past have such extraordinary values been offered throughout all of the ready-to-wear sections as is the case in this 1913 event.

Remember, the November Sale is to continue throughout this week, and if you would participate in the most extraordinary values in Women's and Misses' Ready-to-Wear which you have probably ever known, we advise that you take immediate action.

Police of the Dear Street District received a telephone message at 7:30 a. m. Monday from a woman who said she believed someone was being murdered at 320 North Euclid avenue. A patrol wagon load of policemen went there. They found Mrs. William Knapp weeping in the kitchen and surrounded by broken dishes.

Mrs. Knapp told the policeman that she and her husband had had "just a little breakfast spat." Knapp had left the house when the policeman arrived.

The Packing, Marketing and Refrigeration of Fish Food

will be investigated shortly by the U. S. Bureau of Chemistry, according to Harper's Weekly, October 25th issue.

This branch of the work of transporting sea food from the water to your table is the salient feature of this organization.

We maintain and operate a fleet of iron-clad fishing vessels, inspected daily by sanitary experts, and manned by skilled men, who have passed the school of efficiency with a high mark.

The minute the fish is caught, it is inspected, and if sound, placed in sanitary refrigeration (good, clean, natural ice) and immediately transported to the various distributing stations, thence to your table, guaranteed to be fresh, not only on certain days of the week but every day.

This is the story briefly told. The result you will appreciate if you order today.

MME. SUNDELIUS CHARMS AUDITORS AT "POP" CONCERT

Swedish Songstress Adds to Triumphs Achieved in East; Orchestra Wins New Laurels.

The finest triumph won so far this season by a vocal soloist in any of the concerts of the Symphony Orchestra was achieved at Sunday afternoon's "Pop" by Mme. Marie Sundelius, beautiful young Swedish soprano.

Mme. Sundelius is of the brunette type, with dark hair and eyes. Her voice, too, has the warmth and emotion of the South. She sang the aria, "Dove Sono," from "Figaro's Wedding," by Mozart, with the fire of an Italian.

A group of songs by Swedish composers, with the weird, world-famous melodies of Grieg, gave scope for a display of the rich timbre, graceful flexibility and pure pitch of voice. They were Bjergren's "Jahrlang Mosele Isch So Dik Hatten," Grieg's exquisitely bizarre "Solva's Song," and Bjergren's "Mor Min Lilla Mor."

Mme. Sundelius' endowment as an artist is enriched by her personality. The audience was as charmed with her as with her voice. She sang with her as if she pleased the eye no less than the ear. Born in Sweden, she has lived since childhood in America, except for the years of her musical education abroad, and came to St. Louis from a series of successes in the East.

In her honor, the Swedish Consul in St. Louis, John Gustaf Nelson, and a party, occupied a box.

The Sunday afternoon popular concert this year are becoming a social and musical function in the city's life. Again the Odeon was filled to its capacity, the balconies being packed three-quarters of an hour before the program began. In the boxes were many persons of social prominence.

Conductor Zach's new policy of utilizing his own musicians as soloists was continued. Yesterday H. Max Steindel, leader of the violin cello choir of the orchestra, played with boyish zest (he is but 20 years old) the obligato to the overture of Rossini's "William Tell." Steindel will be one of the soloists at the concert on Dec. 13 and 14.

The orchestra itself, in high spirits, performed with enthusiasm. The musicians began with the great overture from Wagner's "Tannhauser," passed to the Rossini overture, gave the first St. Louis hearing of Walter Damrosch's Prelude to Act II from "Cyrano," played a new suite, "Gitanella," by Laocoe, which is as transparent in style as French prose, and closed with perhaps the most famous dance ever written, Strauss' "Blue Danube" waltz.

As an encore to the Rossini selection, the orchestra played Waterhouse's "Rondo d'Amour," a rustic dance in which the woodwinds come entirely into their own. As a second encore, after the Laocoe suite, it gave Charminade's "Scarf Dance."

TEAMSTER, JOLTED FROM WAGON, IS FATALLY HURT

Frank Taylor Dies at City Hospital of Internal Injuries.

Frank Taylor, 40, of 480 Cosens avenue, a teamster, was fatally injured Sunday afternoon, when he was jolted from his seat on a coal wagon at Grand and Easton avenues and fell under the wheels. He died two hours later at the city hospital.

He was driving on Easton avenue at 1 p. m. and attempted to cross Grand avenue, where the street is being repaved. The wheels dropped into a depression caused by the removal of paving blocks. A front wheel passed over his chest injuring him internally.

A Dress Sale That Is Little Short of Sensational

"A Panorama of Style" is what one woman, some time ago, remarked of our Dress Department. "Something new and different every day," and this "Panorama" is not confined to the steady, rapid evolution of styles. Each day sees a new standard of value established. This is because we never stand still—always on the alert for the latest styles. We are equally aggressive for bigger values, and unless we secure a value better than the one before, we don't ask our customers to give it their time and attention. That's why we've "made good"—why each sale sets a "new record."

THE SALE WE'RE speaking about now is for tomorrow. It's a big underprice purchase of a maker's Winter overstock, which arrived too late to go in today's sale. It consists of

AUTO TRUCK HITS MOTORCYCLE; BOY RIDER IS KILLED

Three Other Persons Injured in Similar Collisions, One Auto Being Overturned.

Rudolph Kamecek, 16 years old, of 2020 Market street, was killed and three persons were injured Sunday in accidents in which motor cycles collided with automobiles.

Kamecek was riding a motor cycle he had borrowed from a friend. At Compton avenue he turned east into Locust street and was struck by an automobile truck owned by the Zollinger Furniture Co. and driven by Joseph Gohn of 565 Easton avenue.

The youth was picked up unconscious and died on the way to the city hospital. He lived with his mother, and was employed at the Brown Shoe Co. factory at Eighteenth and Wash streets.

Gohn was arrested.

Herbert Merkle, 22 years old, of 3202 Nebraska street, was seriously injured at noon at Utah street and Michigan avenue, when his motor cycle was struck by an automobile driven by Louis G. Hagerman, a grocer, of 3501 Vista avenue. He was placed in the automobile by Hagerman and was taken to a doctor's office, where it was found that his right leg was broken and he had several cuts and bruises about his body. He later was taken to the Lutheran Hospital.

An unidentified man riding a motor cycle at the rate of 30 miles an hour, the police say, crashed into an automobile driven by Dr. Thomas C. Edwards of 4555 South Broadway, at Neosho street and Nebraska avenue. The automobile was overturned and Dr. Edwards and his wife were injured. The motor cyclist was uninjured and escaped. With Mrs. Edwards and her husband in the automobile were their son, Waldo, 13 years old, and Thomas Wise of 4557 South Broadway. Mrs. Edwards received cuts on her forehead and face, and Dr. Edwards' left ankle was sprained.

ST. LOUIS U. MEN ARE OUTWEIGHED BY SYRACUSANS

Donnie's Football Team Will Face Strong Machine Thanksgiving Day.

By W. J. O'Connor.

Syracuse's showing against Carleton, Saturday, portends still more trouble for St. Louis U. in the conflict Thursday at Sportman's Park. Prior to the clash with the Indians, the big orange team had shown only a fairly dangerous punch; but there was a decided improvement Saturday and the best accounts obtainable indicate that Syracuse really outplayed Carleton.

The Indians, it will be remembered, trimmed Dartmouth, who previously had whipped Princeton, giving Carleton a position in the first flight of Eastern teams.

Only a miraculous improvement in the next three days could give St. Louis U. anything like an even chance in Thursday's faraway, Coach Dennis's team lacks the weight and the punch and seems set for the soundest beating of the season, not forgetting that it is a matter which the Halls Miners slipped over early in the season.

Let's Hope He's Right. Coach Dennis is positive in his assertion, however, that his team will show a marked improvement in the final game. He thinks his line will surprise the sharp, and this despite the fact that Syracuse will send a line here that averages close to 300 pounds from tackle to tackle. If Donnie can succeed in holding the Syracuse folks to anything better than 40 points, he will have done well enough.

The Syracuse contingent, totaling 23, will leave the East Monday afternoon and will reach here, Tuesday evening, stopping at the Platters Hotel. Coach O'Neil will take 19 players, two trainers and a manager on the long Western junket.

C. B. C. Ready for Haskell. News of the C. B. C. players was seriously hurt in the Notre Dame game, although Quarterback Gallagher and Fullback White were badly used up. But they will be ready, however, for the Haskell battle in Kansas City Tuesday day.

If the field is dry Coach Kelly expects his charges to take the measure of the Indians in his game, as the experience gained in the Notre Dame battle will be valuable to the local college team. Haskell, though, is no mean foe, having played Nebraska, T-A, while the Cornhuskers won from Minnesota and Kansas. Indeed, Haskell, coached this year by Kennedy, who formerly was with Kansas, made a better showing against Nebraska than any other team that antagonized the Cornhuskers.

By beating the Indians, C. B. C. can claim prominent position in the National Valley rating. On comparative scores the Nebraska team would be awarded the M. V. championship, with Missouri next in line, because of the Tigers' clear showing against the Indians of the Mississippi. However, Haskell played a stronger game against Nebraska than any other team, and the Indians must be considered right up with the leaders. Coach Kelly C. B. C. is so eager to bring home the season.

Gridiron Gossip

On a vote of local football men, Mr. O'Neil of Notre Dame would be nominated for nomination for the All-American eleven this fall. A more versatile player than the Indians' quarterback hasn't been seen on a St. Louis gridiron in years. Donnie is a right player this year than he was in 1912 and he was a line man.

The past attendance at Saturday's collision between C. B. C. and Notre Dame was less than 1000. After the post-mortem of the 50 per cent there was not more than $1000 to $2000—$2000 for the two teams. This is a record for the season on the C. B. C.

Coach Homer Thomas of Manual Training School moved himself a capable referee. He brooked no interference and did his duty without a hitch. He was called upon only once in his career for stopping and he stopped it in a manner that was a lesson. He is the referee for the season.

Field Goal Becomes Chief Point Scorer in Big Games Touchdown Is Too Risky

Difficulty in Penetrating the Massed Defense, Close to the Opponents' Goal Line, and the Greater Distance to Be Gained, Make Rushing Method Unpopular.

By Herbert Reed,

Former Cornell Star and the Post-Dispatch's Eastern Football Representative.

NOT in many a year has a football game been so rich in lessons for the student of the gridiron sport as was Saturday's clash in the stadium at Cambridge between Harvard and Yale.

On Saturday's showing, however, Harvard's strategy was a shade superior to Yale's, while the Harvard tactics in the hands of Logan were at least a class higher. I am using tactics in the sense of the choice of plays not so much in their relation to the down as to the weak spots in the opponent's armor.

I have come to expect practically perfect choice of play with regard to the down, under the Harvard system, no matter what quarterback is running the team.

Before delving deeper into this matter I want to consider for a moment the matter of touchdowns, conspicuous by the absence at Cambridge. The comment was common enough after the game: "Why could not Harvard make a touchdown, and why did not Harvard try?"

Let us consider the situation near the close of the first period when the Crimson had the ball, third down, on Yale's 30-yard line. I have said in this column that I have considered this the "big" down, and so it seems the Crimson considered it, for right here it was for what, to my mind, was the prettiest play of the game.

Brickley stepped back, ostensibly to try a goal from the field, and in so doing tossed away his helmet. He has been doing that for some time when he does NOT intend to kick, and KEEPING IT ON WHEN HE DOES intend to kick. Yet Yale scouts must have lost it, or else the team forgot it.

Trick Opens Yale Defense. The maneuver opened up the eager Yale defense splendidly, with the result that Bradlee shot clean through the line for a first down, and with just a pinch of luck might have gone on across the goal line for the much-talked-of touchdown.

With failure to get clear across, the chance was gone, for the play had been exposed and it would have been poor policy to duplicate or use a play anything like it on the next down. Two more plays were tried, but Logan was extremely restricted in his choice, in that the ensuing attempts must find

Ground Gaining by Rushing the Ball Still Big Feature Under New Rules

It was not necessary for either team to make touchdowns on Saturday to prove that under the present rules it was possible to gain ground, and a lot of it—possibly to put on a strong, slashing and spectacular offense; possibly to bring into use much of the power of the old game and all the deception of the new. Further, the game proved that the rules had forced the strategists to make frequent use of one of the prettiest types of attack in the game—the run from kick formation—and one of the deadliest. Both Harvard and Yale, the former to a greater extent, have developed this play to a degree not dreamed of in the past, and the play is even now in its infancy.

Harvard's type of running attack, aside from the high quality of the individuals who bore the brunt of it, was further advanced than Yale's in that it provided for bowling over the secondary defense from the line, while Yale's type was that of a quickly formed shield for the runner, with linemen swinging around into the interference. Yale's is good, so far as it goes, but I think that in course of time it will be developed as to less none of its good features, while at the same time adding the down-field line interference—the upsetting of the secondary defense.

Harvard's all-round play incidentally is one of the prettiest and deadliest I have seen in many a day, and and roll where Wilson was not—that is not to any great extent. Twice in the first period Mahan by the prettiest sort of placing and judgment of distance all but put Yale in the hole, once on the fatal leeward corner, but each time the oval slipped over the line. In the second one it was inches only that kept Yale from being placed in the worst possible position for a football team on the defensive.

Drop-kicking aside, I consider that Mahan was the classiest, most dangerous back on the field, and he deserved a large share of praise for the victory. Not only was he elusive, but he was hard to bring down. He seemed made of a combination of whale-bone and wire. He was away like a rocket, after being deadly certain of the catch, and if any man in the East can swing wide for end runs with anything like an even chance, he is the man.

One last word about the drop-kicking. Brickley is, of course, one of the greatest drop and placement kickers the game has ever seen, perhaps the greatest, but he must have protection when he kicks and only once on Saturday was he at all hurried. The Crimson afforded him wonderful protection. Toe accuracy would seem to be the chief requirement of success in the course of the drop-kick. On the contrary, the drop-kick of the ball figures mightily and it is at this stage that the kicker is in greatest need of protection. Guess he did not get anything like the protection afforded to Brickley, otherwise he might have done even better than he did. And, incidentally, Brickley would have been a mighty factor in Harvard's game had he been unable to kick at all.

In the putting attack Yale's kickers suffered in the end by comparison with Mahan, and Harvard's defense was far better than Yale's. The Elm played only one man back much of the time, and suffered thereby, despite the lessons of last year's big game. Yale's kickers could not place the ball as well as Mahan. They could not kick it where Mahan was not, whereas Mahan could kick it and sometimes make it bound.

Tener Promises to Be Real Boss of National From Day of Election

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—It is believed in sporting circles here that Gov. John K. Tener of Pennsylvania, who is slated for election as president of the National Baseball League at the annual meeting which will be held here Dec. 9, would, if elected, at once become the "real boss" of the League's affairs, although he will draw no salary as League president until the expiration of his term as Governor, Jan. 1, 1915.

It is understood that if elected Gov. Tener would find time to visit League headquarters in this city at least two days in each week and to be an active member of the National Baseball Commission upon automatically becoming a part of that baseball court on Jan. 1 next.

Three Bouts Within Ten Days Will Keep Jimmy Foley Busy

JIM FOLEY's recent wall that boxers were afraid to meet him and that club promoters refused to grant him bouts, has resulted in three engagements for the Canadian. He will be a busy individual in the next 10 days and in the opinion of many will be lucky to survive all the bouts.

Foley's first engagement will be at the Future City A. C. Tuesday evening, when he meets "Tackle" Sanders of Memphis. The weight, 125 pounds at 8 o'clock, is expected to favor the Southern miller. Foley prefers a weight of bulkier poundage.

The Moose Club has also lined up Foley for its feature bout next Saturday evening. He draws Otto Yacknow of Cleveland as a foe. Yacknow owns a good reputation in and about Cleveland. He has met and held his own with such performers as Tommy Kilbane, Matt and Phil Brock and Tommy Brennan. Should Foley be successful in these bouts he will draw Johnny Palma of Philadelphia as his opponent in the Coliseum show, Dec. 4. Palma was the first to answer Foley's sweeping den. Unless James scores victories over Sanders and Yacknow, however, it is probable that Palma will not get the chance to meet the Canadian.

John Kern, the fighting bank clerk, predicts that he will defeat "Kid" Black in the Future City A. C. Tuesday. They met once before. Kern quit because of an injured hand. The mitt is O. Keith, according to Kern, and he has told his friends that he expects to reverse the last verdict.

Dwight Davis Asked to Help Define "Amateur" for Lawn Tennis Body

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—Lawn tennis players are again to endeavor to frame an amateur rule which will conform with the one promulgated by the International Federation of Europe last season.

Robert D. Wesson, the president of the United States National Tennis Association, has just appointed Palmer E. Frost and George Fensholt, Garden, both of Boston, Dwight F. Davis of St. Louis, Howard V. Lewis of Philadelphia, and Robert H. Law of this city to act as a committee to study the proposed rule defining amateur status. There is a plan proposed to establish an annual indoor international championship tournament, to be decided on courts laid in Madison Square Garden. It is reported that the management of the garden is willing to lay any kind of playing surfaces desired and others to offer a cup similar to the Davis international challenge trophy, provided one from England, France, Germany and Canada can be secured as entrants.

BATTING FIGURES TELL WHY BROWNS FINISHED EIGHTH

Team Compiled a .237 Hitting Mark Against .285 by the Champion Mackmen.

By Clarence F. Lloyd.

The best reason why the Browns finished eighth in the A. L. campaign in 1913 is explained in the batting averages released today by President Ban Johnson of the League. The figures show the Browns credit for a team batting average of .237.

They tied for sixth place with the Yankees, who nosed out the locals in the standing, and finished one point ahead of the White Sox. What the White Sox lacked in batting strength they made up in "gray" matter, an asset lacking in the Browns.

Derrill Pratt batted up as the team's best hitter this season, although his .308 mark fell below his 1912 record, when he batted .322.

Clarence Walker, batting in only 25 games, pulled up with a .304 mark, while Bert Shotton's mark was one point less. Gus Williams and Jim Austin, each with .273 marks, were the only other Brownies with batting marks worth the name.

Weak Hitters Turned Loose.

It is pleasing to note that Manager Branch Rickey has fired practically every player on the team who fell below the .273 mark. After that figure, the next man in the list of Browns hit .258. He was Jack Johnston, who tried his hand in left field in 109 games. Brief, Salenti, Compton, Covington and Alexander, all weak hitters, have gone to other parts.

The .237 mark piled up by the Browns looks especially weak when compared to the .356 team average of the World's Champion Athletics. The figures also show that the Browns were the champions of strike-out artists of the League, leading 72 whiffs in the 155 games.

Considering the low hitting percentage of the team, the Browns did fairly well on the way. They piled up a total of 211 stolen bases, thanks to Shotton's 44, Austin's 44, and Pratt's 40, but

Soldan-Central Game Is Booked at Browns' Park

Thanksgiving Struggle Transferred From St. Louis U. Campus to Accommodate Crowd.

The most successful football season weathered by the local intercollegiate teams in years will be terminated Thursday morning with games between Soldan and Central and Smith and Manual. Because of the big crowd expected, the Soldan-Central battle has been transferred from St. Louis U. campus to Sportsman's Park and will begin at 10 o'clock, with Billy Connors as referee. Coach Brewer of Missouri will umpire the struggle.

Soldan cannot lose the prep school championship, even though defeated by Central, although such a reverse will put a dark cloud on the West End team's claim. It is significant, though, that Soldan has been unable to win from Central in four years. The first clash between these teams resulted in a 13-0 verdict for the protégés of Mike Walker, while a field goal decided last year's game.

Soldan this year has an advantage in weight, and is generally favored to win, although Central stock has boomed since the return of Rowan and Metter to the red and black backfield. This game will be the last intercollegiate league contest for Capt. Archie Klein of Soldan, as he will be graduated next June, and probably will enter Missouri the following fall. His big brother, Eddie, starred for Missouri after leaving Central High.

proved poor waiters, drawing only 456 bases on balls.

Only 16 players hit better than .300. Of this number, only nine competed in more than 100 games. Of the 16 300 performers, five were members of the Athletics—Collins, Baker, McInnis, Danny Murphy and Strunk.

Following are the Brown batting marks:

WRAY'S COLUMN

How to Stop the "Shift."

THE knell of the famous "Minnesota shift" has been sounded. Football coaches Brewer and Schulte of the Missouri Tiger squad tolled the bell that rang out one of the most spectacular formations known since the passing of the old "guards back" play of Pennsylvania.

A defensive tactic, said to have originated in theory at Yale and to have been first worked out by Coach Wheaton of William Jewell College, was used by the Missouri tacticians to halt Kansas' famous adaptation of Coach Williams' effective formation.

Perfectly Worked, Play Fails.

EXPERTS who saw the Kansas game at Columbia, Saturday, say that the Kansas players worked their shift formations with beautiful precision. With clock-like accuracy the different parts of the machine swung into their places and worked in unison.

But, strange to say, after the first try, the "shifts" never worked for a yard of gain throughout the game. Hurled at either side of the line, Missouri spilled the play as the line of scrimmage. The defense is simple, according to an eye witness. The Missouri forward line, at the time Kansas fell back into the preliminary shift formation, retired about six feet from the line of scrimmage. As the first movement of the shift, sent the Kansas attack obliquely to the line, and before the ball was snapped, the Missouri defense charged toward that side of the line into which attack was being directed, thus meeting momentum with momentum.

Moreover, the Missouri advance was directed, while the Kansas attack struck a glancing blow.

Diving into the attack on the run, it was inevitable that the play be broken up by the Tigers and the runner nailed at or just beyond the scrimmage line.

The only drawback to the defense described is the tendency of the defending forwards to charge across the line of scrimmage before the ball has actually been put in play by the center, thus running the risk of incurring a penalty.

Playing the Game Safe. ONE of the notable points of the Eastern football championship season, which ended Saturday, was the fact that in the trio of big games needed to decide the issue as between Yale, Harvard and Princeton, not a single touchdown was scored.

Field goals figured in the scoring of each team against the opposition. Only once was a concerted effort to ram home a tally by the good old-fashioned route made and that was when Yale, with the ball on Princeton's five-yard line, failed to get across on three smashes and a forward pass.

Long Run a Forlorn Hope. ALL other efforts to slip a man across the enemy's line for a score were based on attempts to get a runner clear of the opposing team's secondary defense for a long dash. It was such a play by Ainsworth that brought Yale to the five-yard mark in the incident mentioned above.

Forward Pass Too Hazardous. YALE demonstrated that it is practically impossible to puncture a good defense when the resisting side is backed up to its own goal line. It has also been shown that the outlet designed to open up the defense, the forward pass across the goal line, is too risky.

As a result the field goal is now the popular scoring factor.

"Push and Pull" Needed. IF the touchdown is ever to be given its former importance the privilege of assisting the runner with the hands will have to be restored to members of the attacking team.

As the "push-and-pull" was esteemed the principal cause of the big injury list that formerly featured football, the chances are that the touchdown has been permanently reduced to secondary importance in big games.

Abe Doffs the Pajamas. ABE ATTELL, who retired here after having been almost put to sleep by Ollie Kirk, is evidently awake again. Able is matched to fight Johnny Kilbane, at Los Angeles, Feb. 22, just two years after he was handed a splendid little beating by the same man he is to face next Washington's birthday.

Abe's career is as straight as the casual appendage of a pug-dog, but the promoters still run after him, showing

Cobb Is Battling King. Ty Cobb again crowned himself the batting king of the American League. The Detroit Tiger, after a belated start because of holding out, put together a batting average of .300, which was 15 points better than the record of Olat Hamilton, a sub on the Red Sox. Joe Jackson, .278, and two speakers, .266, were next in line among the leaders.

KNIGHTS DEFEAT TERESAS, 5-1 AND NOW LEAD LEAGUE

Columbus Club Scores Easy Victory Over Team That Formerly Shared Honors.

The Columbus Club eleven assumed the lead in the Robison Field Soccer League race by defeating the Teresas, 5-1, Sunday afternoon. The top-sped result came as a surprise, inasmuch as the teams were tied for first place prior to the game and a closer contest was expected.

For half the route the play was even. Then the Teresas' defense went to pieces and four goals, more than enough to win, were shot past McNamara. It was the bulkiest total of goals scored by the Columbus team in ages.

The shakedown given the Infallibles evidently did the team a world of good, as the Irishmen registered a 2-1 victory over the Athletics. This is the second game won by the Infallibles this season. Manager Foley had O'Brien, Walsh and Held, formerly of the Athletic Park League, in his lineup. These players aided considerably in landing the victory.

St. Leo's Hard Pressed. The St. Leo's drew a keen bit of competition in the Columbus A. C. eleven at Athletic Park Sunday, and then won by the scant margin of 1-0. "Bull" Brannigan toed the lone goal for the champions. Jack Tully's South Side crew again played a good game. The defensive work of both teams was good, considerable credit being due to Robertson for holding the Leo's to a single goal.

The Millers held the lead of the Leo's to two points by defeating the Rock Church team in the curtain-raiser. Leo's Pete McLaughlin was responsible for the only score in this contest.

Answers to Queries. HUNT S.—The only drawback to matching Johnny Coulton and Benny McGovern, Hunt, is the deep-rooted aversion of Mr. McGovern to parting with a leg or both arms in order to get down to the champion's size.

The New Munsey Magazine

A radical overturning of old theories in magazine making. A complete book-length novel takes the place of the serial story. A $1.50 book and a standard illustrated magazine all in one. No longer any "Continued in Our Next" in Munsey's Magazine. Everything complete in each issue.

I HAVE made this sweeping change in Munsey's Magazine, cutting out all serial stories, for the reason that magazines built on old lines have lost their grip on the public. The day for the serialization of novels in monthly periodicals is gone, and gone forever.

The public is no longer willing to wait from month to month for fragments of a novel, the whole story dragging through six or eight or ten months. And the novel is the great pulling force in periodical publications. Without it, magazine circulation as a whole, that is, normal, spontaneous circulation, not bargain-counter circulation, would drop perhaps eighty-five per cent.

Weekly publications, Sunday supplements of the daily press and the dailies themselves have usurped the place of the monthly in the presentation of serial stories.

But the monthly magazine has its place. It can do what the dailies and weeklies cannot do. It can publish a complete book-length novel in a single issue, and this "puts it all over" the serialized novel, however ideally presented.

This new move of Munsey's Magazine opens up a new field of wider usefulness and wider popularity for magazines. It gives them a definite work to do and solves the problem of furnishing new books to the public at a price well within the reach of all.

In initiating this broad policy in magazine making, Munsey's Magazine has given the public something new and something big. The complete novel in Munsey's for December (Christmas issue) is

by

George Barr McCutcheon

It is as good a novel as McCutcheon has ever written, and McCutcheon stands with the very first in popularity among the novel writers of the present time. A gauge of his popularity is found in the fact that in book form, at $1.50 a copy, his novels sell up into the hundreds of thousands.

In Munsey's Magazine "Black is White" will cost you 15c; in book form it will cost you $1.50, and in Munsey's Magazine you will get it first—get it before it has ever appeared elsewhere.

The complete novels in Munsey's Magazine are not mere novelettes, but full-length book novels. Make no mistake about this. Of course, the publication of a book-length novel complete in one issue of a magazine means a mammoth magazine in reading pages. Munsey's Magazine is a mammoth magazine in reading pages—228 pages this month. Magazines running along on old lines give, on an average, say three serialized novels a year. Munsey's Magazine will now give

On all News-stands 15c a copy

DR. WILLIAMSON UPHOLDS BROADEST SOCIALISTIC VIEWS

Pastor Tells Alliance Doctrine Is So Sane as to Challenge Consideration.

"DISTINCT GAIN FROM IT"

Wholesale Abuse of Socialism as Anarchy, He Says, Is Disappearing Fast.

The Rev. Dr. William J. Williamson, pastor of the Third Baptist Church, upheld Socialism in his broadest aspects in an address before the Evangelical Alliance at the Central Public Library Monday. He declared Socialism views are fast becoming so sane as to challenge the consideration of all thoughtful persons.

"The wholesale abuse which has been vented against Socialism, which has defined it as anarchy, is forever a thing of the past," declared Dr. Williamson. "We have seen Socialism's views adopted into law without loss to society and practically in every case a distinct gain. The nation is fast becoming Socialized and the worst enemies of the movement are unwittingly contributing to its success."

Dr. Williamson said, in a direct line of industrial evolution and the logical sequence of the present unhappy commercial state. He asserted the development of economics has been marked by the downfall of the small producer, that the strong are becoming stronger and the weak weaker.

The process of eliminating weaker owners of land and destroying small capitalists under our system will some day be complete, he said.

"Since a vast industrial combination is in control of industries, competition from laboring classes is wholly impossible," Dr. Williamson continued. "Labor unions are the only means yet found to urge and maintain the claims of laborers. The struggle between business and capital is becoming more fierce each year and ultimately will result in the elimination of the middle class."

"Nine per cent of the people own 71 per cent of the nation's wealth and 400 millionaires own one-fifth of the nation's wealth. A continuation of this system would resolve the nation into two classes—a few enormously wealthy persons on the one side and a mass of hopelessly impoverished people on the other."

"It is nothing short of a crime that inventors who have lived and died poor, should create a vast system of machinery for lightening the tasks of the world, only to see the machinery taken possession of by a class of society to enslave the toil of millions and increase the misery of the toiler," he said.

"One horsepower of electricity is the amount of energy required to do the work to support a family of five. The Keokuk dam has 300,000 horsepower. Under co-operative ownership such a plant would prove a blessing to the entire Mississippi Valley, and would be diffused among all the people."

"Stop Wasteful Competition."

"The present order of society enslaves both the toiler and the capitalist, the one no less hopelessly than the other. Many men who might have been great servants of humanity have degenerated into mere manipulators of physical endeavor."

"One cure for present evils, Dr. Williamson said, is the elimination of destructive and wasteful competition. He cited he once saw six laundry wagons in one block where there were 18 houses. This he called wasteful competition."

One of America's prominent men has said: "I think the reason why so many men so often fail in their hopes and purposes of life is that they tell along without a plan." A plan is essential for success and the surest way to start is by opening a savings account at the Mercantile Trust Co., Eighth and Locust streets. Accounts can be opened and deposits made by mail.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 24.
EN. HUERTA attended the Sunday bull fight.

Accompanied by only two members of his staff, but guarded by a score of detectives, the President entered the bull ring where 20,000 persons had gathered to see Garona, Mexico's greatest matador, inaugurate the season.

GREY'S SECRETARY SEES PRESIDENT

Man Who Has Developed Understanding on Mexico Has Second Conference.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Sir William Tyrrell, private secretary to Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, had a brief conference with President Wilson last night at the White House. He declined to reveal the subject discussed, saying it was personal and private. Sir William has been here for several weeks and on account of the illness of the President, has been in charge of the British legation in Mexico City.

It became known the conference was his second with the President and that on the first occasion he had a frank talk on Mexican affairs. This interchange of views is believed to have aided in developing the friendly understanding that since has existed between Great Britain and the United States concerning the policy toward Mexico.

The British Government has indicated not only to the Washington administration, but to the Huerta regime, it is warmly supporting the policy of President Wilson.

It is known the confidence of the Washington administration in ultimately forcing the retirement of Huerta is based largely on the friendly attitude of the great powers abroad, who are declining to assist the Huerta government financially or otherwise.

Negro Holdups Escape on Car.

George L. Rooman of 320 Kennedy avenue was paraded at the point of a revolver by two negro highwaymen from Fourteenth and Chestnut streets, where they had robbed him, to Nineteenth and Morgan streets at midnight Sunday.

At the mouth of an alley the robbers again searched his pockets and then told him to "beat it."

At Fourteenth and Chestnut streets the negroes took $1.00 from Rooman. They did not explain to him why they marched him through the streets. He told the police he would have called for help but he was afraid of being killed.

Oscar Wickens of 1233 South Fourteenth street was robbed of a knife and key by two negro highwaymen at Fourteenth and Gratiot streets shortly after 9 p. m. A patrolman, attracted by the shouts of Wickens, fired two shots at the robbers, but they boarded a northbound Tower Grove car and escaped.

STRIKING WAITERS FAIL THREE TIMES TO GET INTO JAIL

Commitments Are Held Up for Men Fined for Contempt of Court.

SHERIFF DECLINES TO ACT

Men Ordered Punished for Disturbance With Pickets in Front of Nagel's Cafe.

Three striking waiters, who have been fined for contempt of court by violating injunctions against picketing, are willing to go to jail as soon as they can get looked up. Their purpose is to protest against recent injunctions restraining strikers from acting as pickets.

Sheriff Dickmann three times in the last few days refused to imprison them without commitments.

The men are George Ringler, business agent of the Waiters' Union; Oscar Closs, a waiter, and William Heffron, an officer of the union. They were fined a week ago by Judge Grimm on charges of contempt by allowing pickets in front of Nagel's Cafe, Sixth and St. Charles streets.

Sheriff Declines to Act. They filed motions for new trials, but these were withdrawn Friday, leaving the fines in force. Half an hour later the men, with their attorneys, went to Sheriff Dickmann's office to surrender, but the Sheriff had no commitment papers. The waiters returned again in the afternoon, and made a third visit Saturday without success.

The striking waiters, their attorneys say, have agreed that all who are fined for violating the injunctions go to jail rather than pay fines. They believe the jail in St. Louis is not big enough to hold all of them.

Ringler, Closs, and Heffron were fined after a disturbance in front of Nagel's Cafe in which pickets were charged with fighting with a man who was passing the cafe. Judge Grimm had enjoined the waiters and officers of the union from stationing pickets there. Closs and Heffron were there at the time of the disturbance, but denied participating in the fight. Ringler was not present.

Papers Ordered Held Up. After motions for rehearing were withdrawn the Court authorized his clerk, Elmer L. Moore, to make out commitment papers, but Moore later received instructions to hold up the papers. It was announced Monday no further action will be taken until the Court decides a motion for rehearing in the case of a fourth striking waiter, who was fined for contempt.

Attorneys Edward W. Foristel and John B. Dempsey represent the defendants.

Democratic Committeeman
Charged in Indictment of Making False Financial Statement

William S. Rex, Democratic City Central Committeeman for the Twenty-sixth Ward, went to trial in Judge Koerner's court Monday on a charge of making a false financial statement; to obtain the renewal of loans aggregating $5000 made by the American Trust Co. to the St. Louis Bank Fixture Co. of which Rex was president.

The company recently failed and the trust company laid the financial statement which Rex had made to obtain the renewal of the loans before the grand jury, and he was indicted.

Attorneys for Rex said that his defense would be that he had an incompetent bookkeeper, and that believed from an examination of books at the time the report was made that it was true. It was through faulty bookkeeping that he was led to make the false report, they said.

The insurance company failed soon after the notes were renewed in March, 1913.

C. Orrick Bishop, Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, was assigned by Circuit Attorney Harvey to prosecute the case. The case was originally assigned to Assistant Circuit Attorney Hiram N. Moore for prosecution, but he asked to be relieved on account of his personal friendship for the defendant.
